GENESIS OF GEOSPATIAL CONFERENCE SERIES

Geospatial is a conference series on applications of Geospatial technology. Centre for consultancy and research is organizing a series of Conference starting from March 2016. This conference intends to bring together academic community and research / industry professionals to share their research and development efforts as well as the state-of-the-art and future directions in the field of geo-informatics that is rapidly expanding in India recently.

CENTRE FOR CONSULTANCY AND RESEARCH

Adithya Institute of Technology (AIT), an Industry Integrated Institution was established in 2008 and run by Adithya Education Trust. AIT has excellent infrastructure and laboratory facility and resource team to pursue Consultancy and research activities. The Centre for Consultancy and Research (CCR) at AIT has been established to benefit the Industry in particular and Society in general through its Research and Training activities. CCR is involved in the following activities : Civil & Structural Engineering Consultancy Services; Surveying & Remote Sensing; Research & Development; conducting series of conferences, workshops, seminars related to Civil engineering discipline.

GEOSPATIAL’ 16

CCR started a conference series known as GEOSPATIAL to provide a forum for students and researchers working in the area of Geo-informatics and its applications. Geospatial’16 is the first in this series and will be held during March 2016. It is an one day National conference with broad application themes which include
1. Geographical Information Systems(GIS)
2. Global Positioning Systems (GPS)
3. Remote Sensing (RS)
4. Digital Image Processing (DIP)
5. Geospatial Applications
   •Land and water resource
   •Environment
   •Earth science
   •Civil engineering
   •Disaster management
Papers are invited on developments in the above areas and applications in Natural Resources Management, Rural and Urban Planning and Development, Hazard Assessment, Disaster Management, Environmental Impact Assessment, etc.

BENEFITS

•An interactive platform for students, scholars, faculty members and Industry personnel.
